Anatomy Design

Pragmatic and utilitarian in their approach, South African interior design duo, Anatomy Design, led by Megan Hesse and Andrea Kleinloog draw from a distinctly African sensibility, infused with inspirations from European style. Working out of Cape Town and Johannesburg, their interior design practice and product design has earned them numerous awards and continues to develop interiors for private and corporate clients alike while also engaging in their industry, spearheading the new creative industry hub and event, Design Joburg.

Quirky and slightly off, Awkward is a floor lamp with a deliberately peculiar anatomy - its long, slender arms reaching to illuminate two areas in close proximity two sides of a sofa or both an armchair and a desk.

Awkward Wall consists of three different parts: an oblong wall mount and a choice of two arms, short or long. You can combine the wall mount with a short arm and a long one or two of the same as you see fit.

Founded on rebellious curiosity and a passion for the unique, Karakter is a bit out of the ordinary. Rooted in the proud Danish design tradition, but always maintaining an international outlook, Karakter presents a striking portfolio of furniture, lighting and objects from designers who have already written the history of design to those who are aspiring to write the future. All designers collaborating with Karakter are curated for their ideas and creativity and shared by all of them is an inspiring level of curiosity and an uncompromising take on their work. Boasting both the relevant and honest, the beautiful, the playful and the expressive, all designs have a clear, undeniable character. Ready to spark curiosity and start conversations.
